PRODUCTION PLAN SURVEY

Participate in the 2025 Vinpro study groups (Production Plan) and receive reliable management insights into your business. Benchmark yourself against your own past performance, your region and the rest of the industry to make more informed decisions and enhance efficiency. Participation is free. A more user-friendly process will this year require less input and the results will include more powerful analyses, even up to block level.

Attend an information session in your area from July 2025, or contact us to become involved.
